

ABSTRACT

An active control type mounting bushing device adapted to properly change the hardness of the mounting bushing according to a driving state, thereby obtaining a proper hardness of the mounting bushing for obtaining a comfortable ride during normal driving conditions, and reducing the inclination of the vehicle during the steering, and 5 contributing to an excellent vehicle ride and steering at all times.